with speakers including Francis McGuigan (former hooded man), Packy Carty form Justice for the Craigavon Two and Lawyer Darragh Mackin.

Venue: City Hotel 7.30pm

FILM + Q & A

FRIDAY 30TH JANUARY

Restrictions On Freedom Of Movement

Mohammed Alazraq is a Palestinian film maker and refugee from Jerusalem. He lives in Aida refugee camp near Bethlehem working as events and programme coordinator at the Lajee centre. He is a former political prisoner. His short films are acts of resistance that expose the various aspects of the impact of occupation. He will screen and speak to his latest film.

Venue: Nerve Centre 7.30pm
Admission: £3

PANEL DISCUSSION

SATURDAY 31ST JANUARY

Resist!

The theme of this year's March and week of events is discussed by speakers including Chair Diane Greer, Mary McManus Housing and welfare rights (Belfast), 'Louie' an arts and creative coordinator from North Glasgow who campaigned on behalf of the YES campaign in the recent Scottish referendum on Independence and Thomas Pringle TD who was elected to Dail Eireann for the constituency of Donegal South West as an Independent at the 2011 general election. Also on the panel will be the Reverend Osagyefo Sekou from Ferguson USA. Reverend Sekou works with at risk youth in the state of Missouri. He has most recently been prominent in the campaign for justice on behalf of the family of Michael Brown, the unarmed black teenager shot dead by a white police officer in the town of Ferguson.

Venue: Pilots Row 12 noon

PANEL DISCUSSION

SATURDAY 31ST JANUARY

The State We're In

Irish News columnists Brian Feeney and Patrick Murphy will be joined by Kitty Holland from the Irish Times to give us their thoughts and reflections on 'The State We're In'. Always thought provoking and challenging, sometimes entertaining and controversial each one of our invited panel of speakers will present their own particular view of an Ireland undergoing real and profound change. .

Venue: Pilots Row 2.30pm

PANEL DISCUSSION

SATURDAY 31ST JANUARY

'No Justice No Peace – from Guantanamo Bay to Ferguson USA'

With Chair Eamon McCann and speakers including the Reverend Osagyefo Sekou from Ferguson Missouri who will speak about the killing of young black man Michael brown by the Missouri State Police (see also Resist! 12 noon) and Moazzam Begg. Moazzam, born 1968, is a British Pakistani citizen who was held in extrajudicial detention by the US Government at the Guantanamo Bay detention camp in Cuba for nearly three years after his arrest in Pakistan in 2002. Early last year he was charged and imprisoned in Britain on tenuous charges connected to the conflict in Syria but was freed after the Crown Prosecution Service claimed "new material" had emerged. He described his imprisonment as "unlawful".

Venue: Nerve Centre 7.30pm

SUNDAY 1ST FEBRUARY

Annual March for Justice

The march will leave Creggan shops at 2.30 pm sharp and will makes it way over the original route ending up at Guildhall Square in Derry City Centre. Guest speakers are the Reverend Osagyefo Sekou from Missouri USA and the anti-austerity, anti-water charges Dublin TD Clare Daly. In keeping with this year's theme of Resist! various groups and campaigns will be represented on the day in a show of solidarity and also to highlight their concerns weather it been the state of the current murder investigation in to the deaths on Bloody Sunday 1972 or more recent opposition to water charges in the South, the impending impact of welfare cuts in the North or the continuing persecution of the people of Gaza or indeed the continuing persecution of the people of Gaza or indeed the ongoing racist behaviour by US state police against black communities right across America today. 2nd Feb. 2014

 Please note that all events will begin immediately at the times stated.*

Further information visit bloodysundaymarch.org or Email: jimfelixdoc@hotmail.com

Resistance

Welcome to the Bloody Sunday March Committee programme of events for 2015

This year's Bloody Sunday March for Justice is focused on the theme of building resistance.

Over the years internationalism has always been a central feature of the Bloody Sunday commemorative events. In 2015 we focus on various struggles against injustice, from Ferguson Missouri to Guantanamo Bay, from Long Kesh and the 'Hooded Men' to the struggle against the on-going imprisonment of the Craigavon Two. The 10 day series of events aims to provide a focus for discussion around a range of domestic and international campaigns, including a discussion on the recent referendum on Scottish Independence through to the current housing crisis in the North, the lessons of the campaigns against austerity and neo liberal economic policies North and South and the behaviour of State forces in Missouri and elsewhere. The aim of the organizers is to help build resistance and foster fraternal links across various campaigns. The first major event of the programme will discuss the implications of the 'Stormont Agreement' on the on-going struggle for justice for the Bloody Sunday campaign. Our theme of RESIST! will be the subject of one of the flagship events to be held on Saturday at 12noon at Pilots Row and we would encourage your participation in the debate. Speakers include the Reverend Osagyefo Sekou, Missouri USA who has been prominent in the campaign on behalf of the family of Michael Brown, the black unarmed teenager killed by a white police officer in his hometown of Ferguson. Joining him will be Independent TD for Donegal South West Thomas Pringle who is a vocal and high profile opponent of the suggested introduction of water charges in the South. This event will be followed by a second panel discussion at 2.30 pm in Pilots Row with columinists Brian Feeney and Patrick Murphy from the Irish News and Kitty Holland from the Irish Times who will explore the theme of 'The State We're In'.

Film + Q & A

WEDNESDAY 21ST JANUARY

Dear Sarah - A Tribute to Gerry Conlon

As homage to the passing of Gerry Conlon in 2014 the Bloody Sunday March Committee will screen Dear Sarah, RTEs 1990 film about the false imprisonment of Guiseppe Conlon and the Guildford 4 and based on letters he wrote to his wife Sarah. It will be the first of this year's film strand. Tom McGurk, who wrote the screenplay for the film will speak at a Q&A following the screening.

Venue: Nerve Centre 7.30pm
Admission: £3

Panel Discussion

THURSDAY 22ND JANUARY

Where does the Stormont House Agreement leave the Bloody Sunday Murder Investigation?

A discussion on the possible implications of the Stormont House Agreement on the Bloody Sunday murder Investigation and the prospect of prosecutions against the perpetrators of the massacre; Chair Bernadette McAliskey with Liam Wray, brother of murder victim Jim Wray and Darragh Mackin a solicitor representing some of the families. Representatives from the SDLP and Sinn Fein have also been invited to put their party positions on the issue.

Venue: City Hotel 7.30pm

Exhibition

MONDAY 26TH JANUARY

The Art of Resistance

The Art of Resistance is a photographic exhibition depicting some of the many protests and creative campaigns resisting injustice both locally and internationally.

Venue: Pilots Row 7pm
All welcome

Film + Q & A

MONDAY 26TH JANUARY

PRIDE

Based on a true story, the film depicts a group of lesbian and gay activists who raised money for families affected by the British miners' strike in 1984. The National Union of Mineworkers was reluctant to accept the groups support due to the unions 'public relations' worries about being openly associated with a gay group, so the activists instead decide to take their donations directly to Onllwyn, a small mining village in Wales, resulting in an alliance between both oppressed communities.

Venue: Nerve Centre 8pm
Admission: £3

Panel Discussion

TUESDAY 27TH JANUARY

The Troubles with Austerity

The 'Troubles with Austerity' meeting will explore the link between austerity and the legacy of the conflict. Speakers include Alan McBride, Director of the WAVE Trauma Centre, who will tell us how budget cuts have already impacted on support services for victims of the Troubles. Goretti Horgan, Social Policy lecturer at University of Ulster will look at how welfare reform will hit the living standards of the poorest, often unrecognized victims. And Sheena McDaid, a NIPSA activist in the Housing Executive will look at their plans to sell off all housing stock, which is set to scrap one of the most important legacies of the civil rights movement.

Venue: Nerve Centre 7.30pm

Film + Q & A

WEDNESDAY 28TH JANUARY

Lacho Drom

A 1993 French documentary directed by Tony Gatlif. Lacho Drom (safe journey) is a 1993 French documentary directed and written by Tony Gatlif. The movie is about the Romany people's journey from North West India to Spain and consists mainly of music. Ending with the Gypsies' eventual arrival in Spain, this cinematic journal details a richly nuanced nomadic lifestyle in which family, honour and tradition are as essential to survival as water, transportation and food.

Venue: Nerve Centre 7.30pm
Admission: £3

Panel Discussion

THURSDAY 29TH JANUARY

Unmasking Injustice – from the Hooded Men to the Craigavon Two

As the Irish Government takes Britain back to the ECHR in order to ask that the Court revise its judgement in the case of the 'hooded men' in 1971 and with the continued incarceration of the 'Craigavaon Two' a case for concern and one very close to the late Gerry Conlon, the panel will discuss the continued use of emergency legislation in post agreement 'Northern Ireland'. Chair Bernadette McAliskey